

Risk Appetite Series 2007

In 2006 we profiled Generation Y. Now we examine the financial risk management implications and possible assessment, measurement and management of Human Resources

With people being our most valued resource, and with emphasis being placed on credit, operational, market and compliance risk, it is becoming increasingly important to analyse the financial risk companies face.

At these breakfast events, our speakers will provide their perspectives on:

- The greatest people related risk factors an enterprise faces;
- The key factors in recruitment, development and retention;
- The key challenges and strategic factors in finding suitable risk practitioners and providing adequate risk training;
- Whether financial institutions have put sufficient emphasis on succession management at the senior risk management level
- Basel II and other compliance and economic factors that seem to have created a greater demand for risk management specialists than ever before...

Places to these banquet events are strictly limited and will fill fast, so don't delay, register today.

∞ Exclusive and complimentary to RMA members ∞

The Risk Management Association (rma) is the premier association for risk management professionals and is dedicated to advancing the use of sound risk principles in an enterprise approach to risk management. As such, the rma exists to benefit professionals and institutions engaged in credit risk, operational risk, market risk and compliance risk practices.

The rma represents a wide cross section of Australia's financial markets including; banking and finance, professional advisory services, business information providers, government regulatory and supervisory bodies.

Objectives

- To provide a forum for members to enhance and share their knowledge of risk management principles and practices.
- To foster continuous professional growth and development of our members.
- To improve and support risk management education and training.
- To keep our members aware of emerging developments in global risk management practices.
- To promote ethical standards and professional conduct in the Australian financial services industry.
