Craig James, the Chief Equities Economist for CommSec will address RMA members in a special June presentation.

Recent Economic and market turbulence has forced changes upon the landscape of business and economies. These changes are influencing the risk profile and appetite of many organisations.

With so much information available, it is sometimes hard to contrast and trend the true economic drivers behind the decision making of Governments, Regulators and Business.

In his presentation, Craig will sort through some key topics from the current economic maze:

- The performance and fundamentals of the key world economies
- Is Australia punching above its weight and what key factors are shaping our results
- The Federal Budget & Economic policy in Australia – what is the focus?
- Australian share market – is it weathering the storm?
- How is the IPOD index performing?
